Hi Andrew

It's always good to hear from you. I'm afraid this film is not something we could acquire for SBS TV. I have no doubt that the film would be well received at festivals and I congratulate the filmmakers on its success.

As a broad general channel we can only acquire documentaries with broad, general appeal.

This film is just too niche and Christopher Barnett is not well known enough in his home country to attract the kind of audience we would need to justify such an acquisition.

I would suggest you approach the Foxtel Arts Channel.

Sorry the news isn't better but we can only deal with the slots, audience expectations and budget we are given to work with.

Kind regards

Kaye
